BREEZES.

Men may come and men may go, but the tariff debates go on forever.

A Mr. and Mrs. Bean in Iowa have named their recently arrived daughter "Lima." The sense of humor possessed by some people is fearfully and wonderfully evidenced.

Oh, Mr. Weather Man, we want some hot weather from the tape market 90 in the shade; we want it for the crops, we want it for our summer resort business, we want it for the sake of the baseball games; but, most of all, we want it for the effect we believe it would have on the lawmakers at Washington.

Washington proposes to require that bathtubs be put in all new buildings. Next thing they will have official bathing masters to see that the residents get busy every Saturday night.

Does Turkey know that a peace congress is now assembling in Chicago?

A German scientist says whales milk makes an ideal human food. How easy it would be to keep a pet whale or two in the kitchen or in the back yard.

The New York man who was convicted of using bad eggs in pastry may make it necessary to put pure food labels on lunch counter pie.

All the newspapers are praising the Seattle woman who drove a burglar from her house with a baseball bat. Indeed, she seems to have scored quite a hit.

Sam Prock who has been out west again, returned home last week but expects to go right back again. He says he can borrow meal now any where between here and the Pacific Ocean.—Wright County Progress

REST CAMP.

The Rest Camp of the Rev. Andrew T. Osbron on Bryant river is progressing nicely. There are plenty of tents spread and Dr. Osbron wants more people to come down and join the outing party. He extends a hearty invitation to every one in Wright county who is sick or needs an outing and rest to come to the rest camp without further invitation. The people now at the camp are ALL improving in health and report that they are having lots of fun. Campers should bring their bedding. Tent and cots can be rented cheap on the grounds. The healing minister does all his work absolutely free. John McCrite, Mr. Norcross and other of our town people whom Dr. Osbron cured report that they continue well and are ready to testify that Osbron can certainly heal by the laying on of hands.

Apples are big as your thumb now and getting larger and redder as the warm days go by. It is estimated that 100 cars will be shipped from Webster county this season.—Seymour Citizen

THE OZARKS.

SHEEP.

Probably this country is better adapted to the raising of sheep than any other country on earth. Every thing a sheep requires is here, and nothing is here to injure the sheep, sheep, in this climate, or rather, here on the Ozarks, are much healthier than anywhere else that I know of. There are no wild animals here to disturb them.

POULTRY.

There is no other country so well adapted to poultry raising as this. Everything combines to make it the very best poultry country on earth. The seasons are right, the climate is right, the markets are right and best of all, the health is better than anywhere else. Young chicks can be had to come off any month in the year, and winter eggs are easier gotten than anywhere else. The Missouri hen is a money maker.

BEES.

I think there can be no better place for bee keeping than here, because no shelter need be provided for them in winter, and they get to work a month earlier in the spring and a month later in the fall, than they can in Iowa or Northern Illinois, and need lay up a two months' less supply of honey for their own use each year, which makes four months' difference in their working season here than in Iowa, so far as marketable honey is concerned. There is an abundance of honey producing blossoms, hundreds of acres of fine white clover.

Bee keeping and fruit growing goes well together, for each is a benefit to the other. For an old man, a partially cripple one, or even for a widow with children, I know of nothing more desirable than to come into the Ozarks and raise poultry and fruit, and keep bees. I believe that thirty stands of bees, properly taken care of, will more than pay the expenses of an ordinary family.

FRUIT.

This is "The Land of the Big Red Apples." It is acknowledged to be the leading fruit country of the world, so far surpasses any other country in raising fruit, that it can be said to be really THE ONE GREAT FRUIT COUNTRY. It is, however, practically undeveloped. Do not expect to come here and find great orchards of bearing fruit, because it has only been ten or twelve years since its wonderful possibilities were first discovered. When the fruit industry is properly developed, fruit land in the Ozarks will bring a larger price than the fruit lands of California, because it produces what properly developed, more profit to the acre.

The fruit land is the very land you will say, when you first see it, I waste land, because experts claim, and have proven that the roughest rockiest land in the Ozarks, produce the best apples, pears, peaches, plum cherries, etc., that can be raised any where on earth. Wherever it is no too rough or too rocky for a forest tree, it is not too rough or too rocky for a fruit tree.

I could write a big book about FRUIT RAISING IN THE OZARKS and still not say all that might be written on the subject. For anyone who is especially interested in fruit raising, I would suggest that they write to "The Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C." for Farmers' Bulletins Nos. 33, 38, 59, 70, 80, 89, 113, 118, 154, 158, 159, and 161. All these will be sent free if you write for them.

People often say that fruit raising does not interest them but I would advise almost anyone, who contemplates moving to this country, to investigate the matter. Say you plant 48 apple trees on an acre, you can use the ground for the first five years, to cultivate in any crop, and by that time your orchard will be bearing; suppose each tree averages two bushels of fruit per tree, per year for every year, and with even decent care, it is not ought to do much better; you will get an average price of a least 50c per bushel for the ap ples, and with less work than on the same number of acres of corn. Does any acre of your land pay you more than 48c per acre? Peaches, pears, cherries, grapes and all small fruits, will pay much better than apples when properly taken care of. I think that fruit raising offers a man, especially a young man, greater inducements than any other industry.

"Why, once, do you know, I found a bear inside a hollow log. Well, of course I couldn't get at him to shoot him, and the log was too heavy to move. I didn't know what to do. So at last I thought of cutting four holes in the log, about where the bear's feet must be, and I got his paws thru, slick. Then I tied a rope about the log, and made him walk with it to camp. And would you believe it—we had all our food and all our fuel for the winter out of that one deal."—Outing Magazine for June.
